New Saints

St Charles de Foucault was declared a saint in May this year. He was born into a wealthy aristocratic family in France in 1858. He was orphaned before he was seven years old and brought up by his grandfather who was a colonel. He went to a military academy for his schooling and joined the army; his first posting was in Algeria. He stopped believing in God and abandoned his faith completely in his 20s. He lived an immoral life for many years and squandered his inheritance on lavish living. He was soon bored with a life of military discipline and spent some years exploring North Africa and its geography. Later, on moving to Paris, he returned to the Catholic Faith. As he says: 'the moment I realized that God existed, I knew that I could not do otherwise than to live for him alone.' This led him whole-heartedly to seek to do God's Will and no longer his own. He spent time with the Trappists, but discerned a call to be a hermit in the Sahara desert. He lived by the ideals of child-like trust in God and abandonment to His Will, of being a brother to everyone and sharing in the sufferings of the world. He wanted 'to carry the Gospel to the most abandoned...not by preaching but by living it.' He lived among the Tuareg people of Algeria where he was killed during an attempted kidnapping. His life story has inspired a number of religious communities like the Little Brothers of Jesus and the Little Sisters of Jesus. They try to live simply, like the Holy Family of Nazareth, devote time to Adoration of Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament, and share their lives with the most forgotten people.

Mercy Bus

Friends of Divine Mercy Scotland have been in existence since 2013 and touring Scotland for the last five years. Now, with the Knights of St Columba, they are visiting England in a double decker bus. They promote the Divine Mercy devotion, offer hospitality and free rosaries, medals etc. they also have two priests available for Confession or guidance. If you would like to see them they will be based at the Cathedral Monday 25th-Saturday 30th July 11am-3pm.

Please take leaflet for more details and pass one on to anybody who has been away from the Church, it may give them a nudge to put their spiritual lives in order, or at least start the ball rolling. Please pray too for the success of their mission.

Message from SPUC

In the wonderful news from the US, Roe v Wade has been overturned, ending 50 years of a constitutional 'right' to abortion. This is a monumental step forward, which shows the world that a civilised alternative to abortion is possible, and will doubtless save millions of lives.

We all have a vital role to play in building a true culture of life, in which every life is respected and where no woman feels that abortion is her only choice. If change is possible in the US, it is possible here in the UK too. If we want to be part of this campaign for change, please go to www.spuc.org.uk/welcome to find out how you can get involved.
